Dedication
To Our President,
HARRY W. ROCKWELL

On the twenty-second day of March, 1919, the State Board of Regents honored the Buffalo Normal School by holding its regular monthly session there, the first ever scheduled in the city of Buffalo. The meeting held an interest which was two-fold, namely, the dedication of the new Normal School building which had been occupied four years before, but never formally dedicated; and the installation of the new principal, Harry W. Rockwell, who came to Buffalo from the superintendency of the Pelham Township Schools in Westchester County. At this all-day business meeting allusions were made to his comparative youth by the speakers, for he was only thirty-eight at the time, prompted him to say: "Time and my own record must be the jury to determine the verdict as to the justice of this expression of your confidence in me." Spoken thirty-two years ago, this response invites us to applaud Dr. Rockwell for his obvious success in his educational profession and each one of the faculty, alumni, and students arrives immediately at the verdict: "An excellent service rendered to a most appreciative State."

When Dr. Rockwell first became head of the school, it had two-hundred fifty students and forty-five faculty members. Today, because of his foresight and industry, the college's enrollment of 2022 is the largest of any of the thirty-three units in the State University of New York with the lowest per-capita cost of any of the eleven teachers colleges. Since his introduction to office of college president, four special departments have been created—home economics, education of the handicapped, industrial arts, and art education.

During the years of World War II the local board had been looking forward to peace and expansion. Under Dr. Rockwell's direction our campus is expanding. The Common Council was persuaded to cede thirty-five additional acres adjacent to the college grounds. In 1946 the State Legislature made a $1,020,000 appropriation for structures including the Edward H. Butler library, now in the process of being built, and a dormitory. Before retiring July 31, Dr. Rockwell hopes to see the establishment of an inter-faith chapel. Born in Rockwell's Mills, New York in 1881; Harry W. Rockwell was destined to become one of the best known, most respected educators. He is known as a familiar and cheerful gentleman of authority to the students and faculty. Always capable of guiding college affairs, he regulates the many student activities for the benefit of all.

He is an inspiration to everyone with whom he comes in contact. The many traditions such as Holly Hanging, Interclass-Sing, and Moving-Up Day, would be incomplete without President Rockwell sharing our enthusiasm and School spirit. We wish to acknowledge our gratitude to Dr. Rockwell with the dedication of the 1951 Elms—may it act as a document of his forty-eight years of worthwhile service not only to the students and faculty benefited by his understanding guidance, but also his outstanding contributions to the State and the nation. Harry Wescott Rockwell is a man the entire New York State can be proud to call its "native son"; a man the entire country can call its citizen. He is no ordinary citizen though. He is not a man who lives from day to day, working for his own singular gain. President Rockwell deserves every honor possible in his particular field of education.

His untiring efforts on behalf of the college and its two thousand students is an unselfish, indefatigable task about which he has generously fashioned thirty-two years of official leadership. Early in his memorable career, Dr. Rockwell rededicated himself with the strength of spirit and will to insure initial victories in his campaign for a better equipped, more modern, adequately staffed curriculum in the first old Normal School and later the college of teacher training. He is rightfully accredited with constructing a firm foundation upon which to erect the largest teachers college in New York State. From all directions educational leaders recognize his talent and know-how when it comes to successfully governing a large student body. Consequently he is called upon for sage advice and helpful hints on a happy administration.

Dr. Rockwell retires this July, 1951 as President of the college. It is needless to say that a complete retirement from the field of education would be impossible as far as he is concerned. We hope for many a convocation with Harry Wescott Rockwell as speaker before the present freshman class experiences its graduation exercises. No testimonial, no Elms dedication, or any other tribute could even attempt to express our cumulative gratitude to this renowned teacher. Not only has Dr. Rockwell—whose title comes from an honorary doctorate in pedagogy he received from Albany State Teachers college—been president of a half-dozen educational organizations, but also has been director of about as many civic and educational institutions. Among these are the Buffalo Rotary Club presidency and past governor of the 169th international district.

As he leaves the college where he awarded more than ten thousand diplomas and five thousand degrees he will take with him this tribute from Mr. Butler—editor of the Buffalo Evening News—who has worked with him throughout his career as college president: "Dr. Rockwell has done an excellent job during his regime. The board exceedingly regrets his retirement but realizes that after thirty-two years of useful service—to the Normal School, Buffalo State Teachers College and civic groups—he is entitled to a well-deserved rest. But we are fortunate in knowing that despite his retirement he will always be available for suggestions and that the continuing growth of the college will always remain one of his primary interests." We heartily agree with Mr. Butler's expressed acknowledgement. It is truly appropriate that we humbly dedicate this edition of the Elms to a man who has dedicated his life to our instruction.

In Memoriam

DORRIS BONNAR

JUNE 1950

We, the faculty and students of Buffalo State Teachers College, pay our final tribute to Mrs. Doris Bonnar, College Nurse, who passed away last summer. For six years, Mrs. Bonnar soothed the ills of the college students with her patience and kindness which was graciously administered with her active remedies. Her office was always open, eager and willing to admit us in our time of need. Although Nurse Bonnar is no longer seen in the hallways, her memory will be kept alive by the good deeds she performed. "To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die."

Student Council

The Student Council was organized in 1937 by the Senior Class for the purpose of incorporating the ideals and principles of American Democracy in our own college community. This is accomplished in open meetings; representatives of each class and department make recommendations concerning matters of vital interest to the student body, thus serving as the medium for the organization and expression of student opinion. In addition to its regular activities, the Council annually sponsors the Community Chest Drive. The Council is assisted in its endeavors by the faculty representative, Mr. Shuck, and faculty advisor, Dean Horn.

Athletic Council

The Athletic Council is a necessary and respected authority on campus. It oversees the extra-curricular athletic activities. The admission to games played, either on campus or at the 174th Armory, and meets swum at the college pool or in the Buffalo Athletic Club tank is but one of their many responsibilities. A few years ago, especially during the war years, the sports schedule at State was indeed meager. Not so today! The high percentage of student participation in sports is made possible by the governing acumen of the newly organized council. Their major goal is a general movement toward a more complete competitive athletic program, high standards of sportsmanship, and an increase of support for intramural events.

Dormitory Council

The Dormitory Council was established this year on completion of the new Student Union and women's residence. On the agenda for the present college year is a continuous campaign designed to acquaint each girl with the other out-of-town students living in the beautiful and spacious dormitory. The girls who had previously occupied Pioneer Hall appreciate all of the conveniences offered in their new sleeping quarters. The large rooms in cheerful color schemes with large windows have individual desks for each girl. The Council makes fair regulations concerning the neatness of rooms and lounges, quiet study hours, curfews, and other important issues vital to a successfully operated dormitory.

Residence Centers' Council

Representatives from each of the various residence centers—student help, relatives, co-op houses, and the dormitory—make up the membership of this important organization. Monthly meetings are arranged to coordinate the activities and rules governing the lives of these students residing on and off the campus. Residence Council plans social gatherings which serve to acquaint girls from out of town with each other and with college life in general. Some of the problems pertinent to these out-of-town women are curfew hours, care of their rooms, and an effective method of enforcing rules of quiet during study hours. The Council plays an important role in making these girls feel at home in Buffalo and at Buffalo State.

The symbol of success and recognized achievement at State is a pin in the shape of a Greek Letter A. It signifies membership in Alpha Honor Society. The selection of those juniors and seniors who have proven themselves outstanding in leadership and service in extra-curricular activities is made known at one of the most impressive of all special assembly programs at State—Alpha Tapping. Alpha promotes leadership and high standards of cooperation in activities through sponsorship of many traditions on campus. Among these traditions sponsored by Alpha are Organization Day, which introduces freshmen to endless possibilities of college activities; Holly Hanging, full of the holiday spirit of gay rivalry; and never-to-be-forgotten Interclass Sing. This organization, founded in 1932 at Buffalo State, encourages well directed, extra-curricular activities. It has worked earnestly to accomplish its aims through extending impartial cooperation and advice. The members endeavor to promote high standards in existing organizations by recognizing true student leadership.

Those students sincerely interested in education, who show professional promise and high scholarship, are eligible for membership in Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternity. Service to the college is a major part of the activities of the group. One of its major activities is sponsorship of the Dean's List and Dean's Tea which honors students with a high academic average. In the field of education, Kappa Delta Pi serves as a vital factor with its promotion of National Education Week through its annual assembly. Kappa Delta Pi serves its members by its recognition of their scholastic achievement and the part it plays in shaping high ideals. Every year delegates are sent to a national convention to represent State Teachers College. They exchange ideas with members of various other schools in the country. As a result of this year's convention Kappa Delta Pi intends beginning an activity which the members hope will be beneficial to the college. Each pledge of the fraternity will do a project involving teaching aids. These projects will be available for use by others in teaching. It is hoped that through plans such as these Kappa Delta Pi may be instrumental in fostering scholarship and interest in more efficient teaching.

Creative writing and the encouragement of literary interests are the basis of Sigma Upsilon's ideals and purposes. Alpha Delta Chapter was established at Buffalo on March 25, 1931, the first Chapter to be chartered in a teacher-training institution. The members of this national honorary literary fraternity are those men on the campus who have displayed an outstanding literary ability and interest. Among the members are men of outstanding achievement both on and off campus. There is always the search for new talents, for men who show promise of creative writing ability. The older members serve to guide them wisely and to encourage their literary interests. Their writing skill is developed by group criticism and their meetings are concerned with reading, writing, and the discussion of both modern and classic works. They learn to appreciate the genius of men of letters by experiencing themselves the hopes, trials, triumphs and disappointments that are inevitable in the growth from a beginner to a master of the art. The stimulus of competition is provided by the Record short story contest. In this, these men strive forward, gaining a richer and fuller understanding of life.

Phi Upsilon Omicron

Service is a key word in the make-up of Phi Upsilon Omicron. This organization contributes not only to the development of high standards and ideals of their own members, but also gives service to the whole college. To be chosen for membership in the national honorary home economics society is a goal eagerly sought after by members of this department. Brought together in this organization are those women of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes who have established a fine scholastic record and have shown leadership and professional promise. As members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, they serve the college by their contributions to the Laboratory of Instructional Materials and by making available to all home economics students, a button machine, the proceeds of which are used to further professional development in the home economics field. New ideas are brought to the group by representatives who participate in the national meetings. From the beginning Phi Upsilon Omicron has placed emphasis on professional contributions by individual members, by chapters, and by the organization as a whole. The local chapter has brought to State's campus outstanding persons of national importance and reputation in its field of work and study. These lectures and guest speakers, included as a part of their year's program, are a stimulus to the development of professional attitudes and interests on the part of the members.

Epsilon Pi Tau

The national honorary and professional fraternity in industrial arts serves as a goal and stimulus to those in the Industrial Arts Department. Membership in this organization is an honor towards which the men in the department strive. Outstanding juniors and seniors who show professional promise and leadership qualities and who have maintained a high level of scholarship are chosen annually for membership. Epsilon Pi Tau serves the college, its members, and industrial arts teachers throughout western New York by sponsoring an industrial arts conference each spring at which latest ideas and practices are brought before teachers in the field. Members of this organization also give service by the publication of several news letters which keep its members up to date on the latest developments in the teaching of industrial arts. At its monthly meetings, the problems of the profession are recognized and solved. The individuals learn to face their responsibilities with a confidence and to enrich their lives further by seizing the opportunities for the advancement that the fraternity provides.

Women students displaying outstanding ability in creative writing are invited, through the English department, for membership in Chi Delta Phi, a national honorary literary sorority. Chi Delta Phi's members strive to raise the standards of literary work and to arouse and encourage literary activities on campus. At the organization's bi-monthly meetings various outstanding authors and their particular writings may be discussed; at another time there may be a single speaker or reader. Chi Delta Phi's meetings are not only discussions and lectures, but also work sessions in creative writing for self and group enjoyment. At these times members may have their own work criticized by fellow-members. A relatively new sorority on campus, Chi Delta Phi, has instituted this year, a welcome addition to campus activities, the "Music Rendezvous." Excellent recordings are played at the rendezvous—recordings that students ordinarily do not have an opportunity to hear or possess themselves. Many times actual talent from the student body performs. The co-operation and contribution of the many members of Chi Delta Phi are a strong creative force behind the Record, Elms, Elm Leaves and Handbook.

A special organization designed to incorporate beauty, enjoyment, and work into the extra-curricular activities of the art students, F.A.B.S. is successful in attaining these goals. This is one of the few clubs that not only encourages friendly group meetings, but also develops individual talents. Members are chosen by their particular ability to paint and the merit of their work. Only art students showing great industry and sportsmanship are permitted to share in this organization. There is a continuous effort by the members to further self-improvement, with the able assistance of fellow artists or helpful faculty members, approaching the subject of art through crayons, charcoal, india ink, pallet, paint and brush, and color chalk. Although their time is well taken up with the instruments of their profession, the members of F.A.B.S. regularly allot several hours to entertaining, parties, general fun-fests and get-togethers, which include paint nights. On numerous occasions art exhibits are advantageously displayed in the Main Building on the campus. At other times there are exhibitions of work by talented F.A.B.S. members at the Van Heusen Gallery, the Arena Theatre, and the Rochester Institute of Technology. F.A.B.S. is an organization with a sincere interest in art and has done much to develop appreciation and respect for the profession of art.

ELMS

It is common knowledge that little could be accomplished without the inspiration and guidance of capable leaders. Under the direction of the Elms Editor-in-Chief, her subordinates, and her faculty advisors, the members of the 1951 yearbook staffs have attempted to present a complete and entertaining keepsake of your college year. It is impossible to keep an account of the hours of industry, expense, and talent that has made this annual publication a college tradition in itself. "We hope that this Elms has continued to mirror accurately the colorful, long-remembered events of college life." The yearbook has proved itself to be a serviceable, informative college publication.

Business Staff

"How much will two pages in the year book cost? When can we have our picture taken? Do captions read from left to right?" These questions and others of similar significance can only be answered by members of the business staff. Financial affairs are their specialty! Among the many duties of this particular division of the Elms is the negotiating of contracts between the yearbook and the organizations requesting page space for activity shots, write-ups and the locating of faculty to arrange for having group photographs taken at a convenient hour. Balancing the books is quite a job, but one undertaken with black and not red ink.

Literary Staff

The literary staff members begin compiling information on every recognized organization on State's campus. Sororities, fraternities, professional, religious, and musical clubs are contacted for official data on their respective social and academic calendars. Each staff member is assigned to write up a number of these societies. It is with a sense of satisfaction that they meet important deadlines on time. Any student with the necessary creative literary urge may apply to the editor for membership on this staff. No where else can a more complete record of campus activities and traditions be found. Paragraphs dedicated to each organization are here published for your pleasure.

Directory Staff

The directory staff is one of the busiest groups working on the 1951 Elms. The members are to be seen jotting down names, house numbers and towns at any hour of the day. Regular perfectionists when it comes to correct alphabetizing of every individual's name, the directory staff provides a complete index to all students enrolled at State.

Art Staff

No yearbook can operate successfully without a creative art staff to arrange the layouts for both the copy and the pictures. Rulers, dummy books, and red, blue, green and black pencils are put to work. There are countless margins to be measured, pictures to be moved, and copy to be lengthened or cut. It is tedious work. Only students with a generosity that enables them to spend their leisure hours over a desk, engaged in the aforementioned work, can be called true artists. The major key-note to a good yearbook is cooperation among the different staffs. This is accomplished by harmony of everyone concerned with a united effort to create a worthwhile and satisfying issue of the Elms.

Typing Staff

Where would a yearbook staff be without its typists? Nowhere. The girls on the typing staff deserve just credit for their cooperation and hard work, done always with speed and efficiency. There are captions to be checked and typed, write-ups to be spaced and punctuated, and index cards of graduates to be filed. The publications office is still smoky with Royal ribbon speedily inking words in response to the light touch of the competent members of the typing staff. Regulation paper, erasers, carbon paper, and typewriters all play their part in the compilation of this edition of the Elms.

The Handbook made its first appearance at the New York State College for Teachers in the fall of 1925 under the name of The Freshman Handbook. In the infant years of this publication it was sponsored by the Faculty-Student Council and was distributed only to freshmen. Now the book is published each spring and copies are given to all students during registration week of the following fall semester. Much credit for the existence, expansion and improvement of the Handbook is due to Miss Catherine E. Reed, Dean of Women, who has worked with many Handbook committees and has given many helpful and constructive aids and suggestions. To freshmen especially, and even to the upper-classmen, the Handbook is a guide to good citizenship on our campus. It is designed to answer any questions one might have concerning college life, whether about our honored traditions, our numerous organizations, or just late permissions. Anyone may join the staff of the Handbook providing he displays an interest in college affairs and in college publications. The work of the staff continues throughout the year as they unearth information about sports, honor and social societies, and all other organizations, to enter in the forthcoming Handbook. The most useful of the new and old information is studied, compiled and constantly revised so that each year a complete and authoritative Handbook is within easy reach of every State student.

Elm Leaves

Upon celebrating its second anniversary in 1951, the Elm Leaves has already become a student and faculty attraction. Before its establishment on campus, everyone now concerned with this successful publication felt the need for such a literary edition. The worthy material contained in the Elm Leaves is composed by the many talented students at State. Anyone can submit their literary accomplishments to the young publication. Great amounts of essays, short stories, poetry, and other interesting, worthwhile articles are anxiously submitted for selection, editing, and possible publication. The Elm Leaves fosters the students' creative abilities and receives support from the other members of the Publications committee. Distributed with the yearbooks on Moving-Up Day, the entire college looks forward to the next edition of the Elm Leaves which has received an enthusiastic reception and has become one of State's invaluable literary organizations.

Since its origin, the Record has proceeded to become the voice of the college. Through its weekly publication students and faculty are kept informed upon current events, such as the speaker for the next convocation, the addresses of the latest enlistees, and the recent sports results. The publication of this paper is a tremendous task to which the staff gives untold quantities of time, talent and work. Heads of staffs are put together in conference, typewriter keys are smoking the ribbon, and scoop by scoop, the paper is a digest of editorials and student-faculty opinion. It registers a satisfying account of the college traditions with informative headlines and entertaining copy. The Record first appeared on State's campus May, 1913. At this early date the newspaper was a periodical issued to the students three times a year, at the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter holidays. Two years later the Record was given a room for the members of the editorial and business staffs. In September of 1920 the Record became a monthly paper. Eight years later the weekly publication of the Record made its appearance.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship movement began in England at the Cambridge University during the eighteenth century. Since then, this interdenominational student organization has circled the globe until today nearly every country has a chapter. The basic purpose of this organization is to strengthen the student's knowledge and understanding of God and to encourage a greater reliance on God's Word as a pattern for daily living. A deeper fellowship with God is gained through daily prayer meetings, and weekly Bible studies. Once a month State meets with her sister chapter at the University of Buffalo for a special evening of fun. Splash parties, taffy pulls, snow parties, skating and bowling parties are all in the monthly plans. An annual affair is the Hare and Hound Chase held at Chestnut Ridge Park. An ever increasing number of students are realizing the spiritual and social values of belonging to an organization such as this.

Hillel is among the more recently organized societies on the campus. Just eight years old, Hillel was formerly called Akiba. Any student of the Jewish faith may be welcomed into its membership. Hillel was founded in 1943 for the purpose of stimulating and advancing social, cultural, and religious activity in regard to Judaism. It endeavors to promote philanthropic and educational opportunities and to strive for the disappearance of racial intolerance and prejudice by creating a tolerant, brotherly attitude in the student body. By promoting brotherhood and good-will Hillel grows spiritually, academically, and numerically. Hillel is eager to further the appreciation of the Jewish culture while creating a better understanding of different religious groups.

Every Catholic student on the State campus will discover that his spiritual, social, and intellectual interests can be developed in the ever-growing Newman Club. Founded in 1937 with the sanction of the Catholic Church, this organization has initiated and maintained a close connection between the religious and academic life of every Newmanite. Panel discussions, rosary meetings, and religious instruction movies are but a few of the activities planned to expand the spheres of the Catholic students. On the social agenda are the annual Twilight Twirl and the dance held jointly with other Newman Clubs in this area. Frequent communion breakfasts and yearly retreats are well-attended and spiritually invigorating. The Newmanite realizes the vital necessity that prayer is essential to personal and group success.

The Student Christian Association places at the center of its program Christian faith, which it aims to strengthen through personal and corporate worship, study of materials that throw light upon the Christian faith, and social action growing out of our faith—these leading through Jesus to knowledge and love of God. This year its program centers around the theme, "Christ and the Fine Arts." Monthly S.C.A. holds a Sunday supper meeting, at which there is a speaker, a worship program, fun and fellowship. Squirle, sponsored annually by S.C.A., is a combination square and round dance held on campus. S.C.A. also sponsors State Fair, in which practically every organization participates, with the door receipts being donated to the World Student Service Fund, an Inter-Faith student relief organization. Members attend the New York State Student Christian Movement conferences held about four times a year; also the leaders of S.C.A. are sent to a Leadership Training School. It welcomes into membership persons of all faiths and denominations.

The special club dedicated to dramatics on this campus is called Casting Hall. The name appropriately reflects the theater's influence upon the actors and actresses enrolled as potential I.A., G.E., Home Ec., and Art Ed. instructors. It has been discovered before that many talents are hidden within each person until the stage and footlights cast their spell. Ever since its establishment twenty-four years ago in the old Normal School building, the performances by members of Casting Hall have become traditional. The constitution of the dramatic club emphasizes an increase in student responsibility and leadership in play production. The purpose of the club is to allow State's students to enjoy, and become more familiar with, the various phases of play production. Under the excellent direction of able faculty advisors, Casting Hall presents annual plays of the highest calibre. Among these are the Christmas pageant, the Spring entertainment, an assembly program, and a proposed fourth feature, all eagerly anticipated by students, faculty, and the general public.

Countless hours of hard work and innumerable rehearsals are required to bring to view a performance that surpasses the dramas and comedies of former years. Audiences are appreciative of Casting Hall's acting and producing talents as evidenced by the thunderous applause. The lives of many of our students have been enriched through active participation in the stage-craft handiwork, the delightful programs, and the entertaining performances of the dramatic club. Among the contributions which organized dramatic work has made to the college are the expansion of property, costume, and lighting equipment. It has also accumulated a variety of valuable stage scenery. Most students and faculty members of State look upon the Christmas, spring and occasional informal dramatic productions as outstanding events of interest and enjoyment. Credit is due to Miss Mina Goossen, Miss Betty Gallagher, Mr. Ralph Smith and Mr. Eugene Dakin, the present directors of dramatics who work for perfection in interpretation and production.

Future Teachers of America is an organization whose function is to further the knowledge of the methods and materials in the teaching field. Discussions, lectures, and other activities are designed to help the future teacher in her discovery and satisfaction of the needs and interest of the children who will be in her care. Membership depends on a sincere interest in the profession. This organization offers the opportunity to develop leadership and organization abilities of the individual and the group. This year members donated Christmas gifts to the youngsters at the Children's Hospital as one of their yuletide activities. By setting up high educational standards the club proposes to introduce qualified teachers into the education system through an active and beneficial F.T.A. program. An early winter trek to Zoar Valley guided by Dr. John Urban initiated an annual experience that is designed to enrich our knowledge of the localities abundant in beauty and material resources. Eagerly planning for meetings that will prove both interesting and educational to everyone, each member takes part in exercising his opinion on the topics to be discussed at future dates. Active participation promotes a warm and friendly atmosphere which is the basis of all successful group work.

As the position and importance of science gains increasing recognition in the classrooms all over the nation, this club becomes more popular every succeeding semester. Membership qualifications endeavor to admit only those students whose major interests center on the science curriculum. Through this organization, new on campus, suitable opportunities are provided for the science specialists and people who wish to do individual work in this field. A fascinating activity of the Science Club members is the development of a new and different plant species. Special attention and care is given to the Vocational building aquarium. Any members particularly gifted with "green thumbs" include the improvement of the "growing room"—a glass enclosed room dedicated to the experimental whims of young scientists—in their already full schedule of college and extra-curricular activities. A file of valuable and serviceable science reference materials is immediately available to every student striving to further his knowledge in the teaching of this seemingly complicated subject. In an age when so much stress is put on the wonders of science, this club is obviously worth-while.

In the year 1937 the International Relations Club was organized on State Teachers' campus under the outstanding leadership of the late Lieutenant Richard Hughes and his wife, the former Betty Horn. They saw the necessity of having a club on campus where the active participation and free expression of ideas on the part of the student body was the main aim. The club discontinued meetings during the war so the members could devote their time to war work, but in 1945 more than 50 members requested active memberships. Thus the meetings were resumed. Now the International Relations Club has bi-monthly gatherings at which it has either a speaker or a topic of discussion to which everyone contributes. The subjects are always tuned to the international scene. Together with the equally active International Relations Club of Canisius and D'Youville, forums, speakers and other joint functions are sponsored. On our own campus, I.R.C. contributes to two major projects; the high school United Nations Assembly in the spring which brings about three hundred high school students of the area to our campus, and the Model Collegiate General Assembly of the United Nations to which four students are sent by the college each year. These and others are the functions which the International Relations Club contributes to a progressive, well-informed college life.

International Council of Exceptional Children

An outstanding example of the progress by which they learn and practice new methods in the teaching of the physically handicapped or unusually brilliant child is offered by the International Council of Exceptional Children. Through extensive field trips, interesting talks, and panel discussions on various phases of progressive ideas, the members of I.C.E.C. are developing an understanding attitude toward this engrossing problem. Everyone entering the profession recognizes the need for new methods with which to help these youngsters adjust to the educational facilities provided for them. An important requirement for membership in this newly established organization is a keen interest in handicapped children. Those who choose this absorbing field in the teaching situation begin to elect hours of study pertaining to the education of the physically and mentally retarded child early in their college career. This area of teacher training is attracting many scholastically superior students. Instructors of these elective subjects look for stamina, patience, fortitude and emotional stability in every particular candidate aspiring to qualify for these courses. Outside of classes the students organize to exchange theories and ideas on the subject of exceptional children.

Psychology Club

The purpose of the Psychology Club is to delve further into the science of psychology than is possible in the classroom. The students are taught to develop their own personalities, to realize their capacities and their limitations, and thereby, to develop the children who will come under their guidance. Interest and enthusiasm are fundamental essentials to good, active members of any organization, and in the psychology club, a further requirement is a thesis on a psychological subject in which they are interested. The contributions of the psychologist in the realm of social service is more fully recognized, and the eager participation of the individual in the betterment of the community is promoted. Through field trips, discussions, demonstrations, and guest speakers, the members of this organization fulfill their purpose and learn more of the science of psychology. They visit such places as Sunrise Court, the Crippled Children's Guild, the Morgue, the Erie County Jail, and the State Hospital. Its functions in daily life provide an absorbing study for those students wishing to be of further service in this experimental psychology. Increasing knowledge of psychology appropriately applied is invaluable to the classroom teacher. Ever striving toward truth, they are developing themselves so as to develop those children with whom they will come in contact as teachers of tomorrow.

This very active, nationally affiliated group is composed of students in the home economics department who are interested in advancing their knowledge in this field. Affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, this organization is interested in the development of Home Economics in our country and abroad. Opportunities for further instructions and practice in developing home-making skills and techniques are offered to every member taking advantage of the Home Economics Club's resources of materials. The members are occupied with an annual dance—the first of the college social activities, a brownie sale each year and other activities. One of these is the serving of refreshments to anxious spectators at the Push Ball Contest. During the two World Wars the Home Economics Club worked in conjunction with the Red Cross by doing "buddy work." A worthy project is also given by them at Christmas time for the benefit of the Salvation Army. In addition to these affairs they participate in the colorful State Fair activities and the exciting Moving-Up-Day Exercises.

The promotion of good fellowship among the men on campus is the aim of Men's Campus Club. To accomplish this goal, this active organization holds supper meetings and movies and actively participates in athletics. The club's outstanding achievement is its annual sponsorship of Men's Frosh Camp, where the incoming class is introduced to college traditions and college life. The popularity of this camp is ever increasing, as indicated by this year's record attendance. Under the capable leadership of its officers, Men's Campus Club has helped to perpetuate the fine traditions of State.

Foreign Language Club

Soon after the introduction of foreign languages into the college curriculum, student interest resulted in the formation of several different language clubs later unified under the Foreign Language Club. The club welcomes to membership all persons who study, and are interested in, foreign tongues and dialects or foreign music, moving pictures, and plays in foreign languages, and assembly programs by speakers of different nationalities. There is an avid interest by everyone concerned when it comes to corresponding with students in other lands. The prime objective of the Foreign Language Club is to develop a better understanding and appreciation of the languages and the cultural backgrounds of many countries. The members realize that only through study of foreign cultures and peoples can we expect to achieve mutual understanding and peace between the nations of today's world. The education of others to our language and customs is a good-will method to excite the Foreign Language Club to action.

History is yesterday, today, and tomorrow. It is a vivid, thought-inspiring study to the men and women interested in focusing their time and knowledge on the past, present, and future developments in the world. The various attitudes of the international conflicts are analyzed sufficiently and to the understanding of all members. They realize that a common study, through the medium of group discussions, lectures, and social entertainment, is very profitable. The members of Chi Alpha Pi are elected to enrollment in the club on the basis of scholarship and amount of interest shown in social studies. Although a comparatively new organization on State's campus, it has been an influence by increasing interest in history, and will no doubt be felt even more in future years. Chi Alpha Pi conducts bi-monthly meetings which stimulate active participation in the discussions by everyone attending these meetings. Chi Alpha Pi—"Yesterday builds tomorrow."

The club, catering to the professional and social ambitions of the art students on campus, is known as the Art Education Club. This club was born in 1931 in the brain of the late Daniel Grossman who saw the need, on campus, for a club which would strengthen the unity among art students and to furnish a means of contact with art groups at other colleges. Because of its far reaching popularity, membership has increased at a high rate during the past years. This Club furnishes the members with the opportunity to come in contact with other art groups since members attend the conventions of the committee on Art Education in March of each year in New York City. Through these meetings the club has attained widespread recognition. Talented students find their ideas on the subject of progressive art good discussion material upon which some meetings are based. Creative ability is encouraged and fostered by members and advising faculty. Since one of the purposes of the Art Education Club is for social contacts, parties and dances make this organization a very generous one in its services to the college. One such affair is the Annual Art Ed. Ball, a costume ball at which the creativity of the members and others attending is seen in the unique costumes worn. The Annual Art Auction is another worthy project sponsored by the club. At this auction, paintings and other art works of the students, faculty and well known local artists are auctioned off to the highest bidders. The proceeds of this affair furnish scholarships for deserving art students.

Art Kraft Klub

The membership of the Art Kraft Klub is composed of students from all the departments on campus. To qualify, one must show originality and versatility in thought, talent, creativeness, and willingness to work. The club encourages scholastic attainments by offering a scholarship to some promising art student. It stimulates wholesome social attitudes on the part of the students, a necessary good for the full social and intellectual growth of the students. Character, leadership, and achievement are promoted through creative efforts. A.K.K. has the responsibility of approving all posters used on the various bulletin boards throughout the school. "Esrever Ecnad" and "Club 1300" are the two of A.K.K.'s many activities which highlight our extra-curricular life at State. "Esrever Ecnad" alias "Reverse Dance" is characterized by an "about face" in dating. The young lady asks her friend for a date, makes an original corsage of any material she has at hand, thus bringing her creative genius to the fore, pins it on her date, pays for the transportation fare to and from the dance and bears any other expense connected with entertaining her date. This is an affair the men appreciate. It is one night, leap year or not, when the woman pays all the bills. With us it's "O.K.—A.K.K."

To stimulate harmonious relations among the three fraternities on the campus, Psi Phi Fraternity, Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity, and Delta Kappa Fraternity, is the intent of the Inter-Fraternity Council. To accomplish this the Council makes rules and regulations pertaining to the rush season, joint social events and other affairs of mutual interest. A yearly program of sports activities—touch football, basketball and softball—is organized to promote greater and closer fellowship among fraternity men. In addition to these activities the Council also sponsors inter-fraternity parties, the highlight of which is the Inter-Fraternity Ball, which was held in March of this year.

Delta Kappa

Alpha chapter, the charter chapter of Delta Kappa Fraternity, was founded in 1920. Established for the general purpose of fostering fellowship, scholarship, and leadership among its members, it is dedicated to the advancement of the teacher-training institutions in which its chapters are located. The colors, maroon and white, so frequently seen on our campus, symbolize the ideals of the organization, and their bearers give evidence to the fulfillment of the fraternity's purpose. The highlight of Delta Kappa's social events is the Crystal Ball, the first semi-formal of the school year. Inter-fraternity sports, such as baseball, football and basketball, bring forth the spirit of good sportsmanship in the Delta Kappa men. Their calendar also includes a picnic in the spring and parties with various sororities. The contributions of this fraternity are seen all over the campus, not only in the work done by individuals, but services to the entire student body. One of the organizations' services is the publication of the invaluable Student Directory—a listing of every student enrolled in the college. At many of the college sporting events you will notice convenient score-boards made by the members of Delta Kappa.

To "obtain that which is best" is the aim of all members of Psi Phi. The oldest fraternity on our campus, it has for many years included among its members young men of honor and generosity, who hold fidelity as a watchword. Beta chapter has continued as a very tightly-knit organization, interested in cultural pursuits as well as in making college life more interesting for everybody. Many of the fraternity's traditions have become a regular part of the college's own traditions. Once again this year the evil spirits which might bring bad luck to State's athletics were banished at Psi Phi's annual Jinx Burning. Organizations and individuals were invited to add to the pile of fuel surrounding the effigy of the Jinx, and then to stay and watch as the leaping flames consumed and made frightful patterns in the darkened sky. This was the official opening of the college sport season. The annual dance, Club Collegiate, was highlighted by an all-star floor show during the intermission, featuring some of our own very popular local talent. On Sports Night, before a large audience of appreciative students, the outstanding athletes of the year are honored. The fraternity's campus activities each year are culminated by the Clock Painting ceremony, an old tradition at State and one recently revived through the interest and effort of Psi Phi.

Sigma Tau Gamma

In 1933 Alpha Chi affiliated with Sigma Tau Gamma, the oldest national professional educational fraternity, to become Rho Chapter. Since that time Sigma Tau Gamma has rapidly progressed, and now holds an honored and respected position on campus. This year the organization was accepted into the National Inter-fraternity Council, the governing body for all inter-collegiate national fraternities. Many notable services to the student body are performed by Sig Tau, one of which is the publication of the Social Calendar, to keep everyone up to date on college activities. Also Sigma Tau sponsors the Walter B. Weber Award which is presented to the Senior Industrial Arts student judged to have demonstrated outstanding personal growth, leadership and scholarship. As well as participating in inter-fraternity sports, the inter-fraternity dances and State Fair, Sig Tau won an award for the most original float in the Moving-Up Day parade. Most important of its social affairs, which include parties with all the sororities, is the White Rose Dance which has, with its White Rose Queen, become a favorite affair in college life.

The Pan Hellenic Association is the federation of all Greek letter sororities on the campus. This organization governs all sororities and coordinates their activities. Founded in 1926, a local constitution provides for three representatives, two of them upper-classmen from each sorority, and a faculty advisor. The organization establishes rush rules and serves as a board of instruction for non-sorority women, while bringing into closer harmony the members of the seven sororities on campus. Pan Hellenic aims to develop the broader interests of students, to consider any inter-sorority differences which may arise, and to encourage cooperation among the sororities at State. Through discussions it attempts to regulate sorority life and inspire the members of each sorority. Thoughtful leadership and helpful guidance have made Pan Hellenic a serviceable organization which serves not only the sororities, but also the college students as a whole.

"Aspire, seek, attain"—is a motto in practice with Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. The group has grown with the college, and is now active in social work as well as social life. The Alpha Sigs have added much to the social life at State by their popular Alphaquade and fashion show at State Fair, the Sweetheart Dance and the Moving-Up Day float. The girls in red have enjoyed many social gatherings at State and at their summer cottage which is visited annually by the members of the group. The sorority strives to maintain high scholarship, social competence, and worthy leadership among its members. Its nationally supervised social-service program places special emphasis upon training and experience in community service. The Pi Pi Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha was installed in the Buffalo Normal School in 1926. Among the campus activities which the local chapter has sponsored are Mothers' Day Tea, Fathers' Banquet, Founders' Day, Mid-Semester Slumber Party, Christmas College Dance, and Summer House Party. The sorority attributes much of its success to the efforts and understanding of its faculty advisors. With a full schedule and a happy group of young women, Alpha Sigma Alpha could not be anything but successful.

A sorority that exemplifies the desirable qualities that Alpha Sigma Tau does, is always a goal to which most rushees flock. High standards are recognized and attained in leadership, fellowship, and scholarship. Contributing actively to the social life on campus, Alpha Sigma Tau presents the Emperor Waltz, an annual festivity looked forward to eagerly, not only by students in the sorority, but also by the entire student body. A successful and colorful sale of carnations at Holly Hanging is awaited and undertaken with joyous Christmas carols. The Bingo booth run by the members of Alpha Sigma Tau rates as one of the highlights of that popular tradition—State Fair. Thus Alpha Sigma Tau remains an outstanding example of sorority life. On the campus, the Sigma Chapter has fulfilled the aim of service in many ways. A scholarship fund, created by this chapter was established in 1926 "to benefit a deserving, upper class, non-sorority girl of high scholarship and noteworthy ability." The organization has presented a twenty-five dollar War Bond as a gift to the Dormitory Fund. The participation of local members on the National Staff of Alpha Sigma Tau is evidence of efficient cooperation of the members in nationwide activities of the sorority.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

Delta Sigma Epsilon puts forth the attitude that only by the successful advancement of such qualities as scholarship, friendship, and leadership can a sorority claim favorable and honorable recognition on the campus. Living up to these high ideals, the many members of this organization spread goodwill and fellowship through their unselfish and admirable sponsorship of the annual Red Cross drive. They generously contribute money to the Carville Plan which offers aid to the lepers in this country. These services are only a few evidences denoting a spirit of wholesome sorority life proudly acknowledged by the entire college. Some of the purposes of Delta Sigma Epsilon are to develop high standards of womanhood, to strengthen character, to unite the interests of undergraduates, and to foster close friendships. The organization annually awards the Bishop Honor Medal, sponsors a Sorority Service Fund, and makes provisions for a patron membership in the Seeing Eye Foundation. Established in 1914, this sorority continues to be a well respected and popular chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon.

Pi Kappa Sigma

The Rho chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma was initiated at the Buffalo State Normal School in 1925. Through the years the girls, jacketed in turquoise blue and gold, eagerly participate in molding their sorority into a living institution. The sorority promotes social efficiency, intellectual growth and moral development among its members. Although the local chapter engages in numerous educational and professional activities, a number always seem to find time for a well-balanced program of social activities including parties, social meetings with alumnae members, and an annual dance, the Mardi Gras Ball, which is highlighted by the coronation of King Rex. All the girls assume equal responsibility for the resultant success of their college activities. "Toyland," Pi Kappa Sigma's attractive booth at State Fair is her contribution to this exciting March entertainment. Following this successful enterprise, a colorful float in the Moving-Up Day ceremonies culminates their social affairs for the year. A busy organization doing all it can for its members, Pi Kappa Sigma looks forward to another year.

Sigma Lambda Phi

Established on campus for the last three years, Sigma Lambda Phi has carried through its lofty ideals of generous fellowship, ambitious leadership, and hard-earned scholarship. These ideals constitute the prime objectives of this prominent sorority. Sigma Lambda Phi is a local sorority with no present national status. The alumnae is an active supplement to the present sorority members. Proud of their new royal blue and white jackets, the girls in this organization take pride in their socially active part in the Inter-Sorority Ball, the colorful State Fair, and picturesque Moving-Up Day. The organization is rapidly advancing in prestige and popularity. Under the capable guidance of Dr. Mary Cochnower, the women of Sigma Lambda Phi receive understanding and worthwhile counsel and encouragement. Because its goals are so admirable, rushees wish to gain acceptance into a sorority which advocates so desirable a sorority life.

Sigma Sigma Sigma has become synonymous with service, cheerfulness, and scholarship on our campus. The participation in social activities are, in part, represented by support to both the John Randolph Library and the Endicott Libraries in Virginia. For the past three years the Tri-Sigma members have continued to sponsor and send packages of food and clothing to Elsa, their adopted Finnish war orphan. The parties they have given for the children of the Tuberculosis ward at Meyer Memorial Hospital give further evidence of the fact that service leads to growth. Social events are also a part of the activities of this organization. Who can forget their prize winning floats in the Moving-Up Day parade, or their show at State Fair, or the memorable dance which is a highlight of the spring season? The Tri Sigmas have every right to look back with pride, and to look forward with renewed spirit for continued success. This sorority aims to build character, stimulate high endeavor, develop leadership, promote unselfish cooperation, and to create a friendly spirit in all human relationships. Tri Sigma's custom of awarding honors for high scholarship and for leadership has served to carry out these purposes. The social service of the sorority has included parties for underprivileged children, nursery school work, and Red Cross work. Their royal colors, purple and white, can well be worn with honor and dignity!

Installed on campus twenty-four years ago, Theta Sigma Upsilon began with the enrollment of twenty-five girls. It signifies unfailing loyalty to a new and more useful life. The aim of this sorority is to establish a close unit that has for its objectives the intellectual, physical, ethical, social, and spiritual development of its members. By participating in the lively activities of State Fair, Theta Sigma Upsilon takes you through its traditional Chamber of Horrors. Who knows what belongs to that weird scream around the next corner? Everyone is willing to pay to find out. Also a recognition of the National Rose Day Celebration, and the tasty October cider and donut sale are anxiously awaited by the entire student body. In its service to the community, Theta Sigma Upsilon promotes its seasonal social service sale of Christmas seals. Girls wishing a balanced sorority life will be attracted to Theta Sigma Upsilon. "The higher good" is a meaningful motto for this worthy organization.

Band

Spirit and morale soar high among the student body whenever State's 90-piece uniformed band marches into view. Under the direction of the enthusiastic Mr. Joseph Wincenc, it performs brilliantly and at many of the college events. It is a spur to both athletes and spectators at pep assemblies and athletic contests, especially at the basketball games in the 174th Armory. In the fall, the laying of the cornerstone for the Butler Memorial Library was preceded by a "Pop" concert, given by the band, and a parade, led by the band. A delightfully festive atmosphere was added to the Moving-Up Day parade when the marching band led the floats through the main streets of our city. The fame of this organization was spread far beyond our campus bounds this year when several of its members were honored with an invitation to go to Syracuse, N. Y., to perform with the All-State College Band, directed by Mr. Wincenc. The students of this college appreciate the amount of work and musical ability which have made it so successful. We take pride in the very talented and active band which our college is so fortunate to sponsor.

Orchestra

Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Wincenc, the symphony orchestra at State succeeds in executing the most intricate scores of the musical masters of today and yesterday. With the utmost sense of accomplishment the eighty members of this comparatively new organization have rendered innumerable selections at various convocations both on and off the campus. They actively participate in the colorful Spring Concert. Sharing the spotlight at this event with the several other musical groups, the orchestra proves itself a worthwhile organization. At the beautiful commencement exercises in June, the symphony helps to make this occasion a triumphant one to be remembered by faculty, graduates, and guests. Whenever and wherever they play they are greeted with the resounding applause of the audience which thanks each individual member for his efforts in making this group of young musicians one of the best State has. Only long hours of tedious practice and concentration could produce such superb musical artistry.

A Cappella Choir

Under the capable direction of Silas Boyd, the A Cappella Choir has enthralled music lovers of Western New York for four years. A source of pride for all State students, the organization has provided delightful interludes of finer music highlighted by the annual Spring Concert. This year, the choir lent their talented voices to the production of the famed opera "Carmen" at Kleinhan's Music Hall where their efforts were met with high acclaim. We look forward to hearing the A Cappella Choir at Baccalaureate services and Commencement exercises again this year. Their successes, which are greater every year, assure us that they will advance to even higher achievements. Mr. Boyd and his associates in the Music Department have placed the quality of musical performances in the college on a high and enviable level. Providing unusual arrangements of classical and popular selections, the A Cappella Choir is a source of interesting entertainment.

Senior Women's Glee Club

To reflect changing moods in the realm of musical notes, upper-class women blend their voices in part harmonies. They never flinch at the many hours of hard work that must be put into a program or even a single number. Mr. Frank Webster, assistant professor of music and college organist, directs the group and selects the music. This year the Women's Glee Club had an exceptional concert at St. John's Episcopal Church where they performed the Bach Cantata, "We Hasten With Tired Unfaltering Footsteps." A concert for a P.T.A. group in Kenmore, the Spring Musicale and, of course, the beautiful Christmas pageant were some of their other activities. The girls have many social activities besides their public appearances in the form of gay, informal parties, booth at State Fair, and Moving Up Day. Membership in the Women's Glee Club is given to upper class women who are interested in the hard work as well as the fun of the weekly rehearsals, concerts, programs, and parties. Always ready and co-operative, they intertwined the classical elements of correct pitch, phrasing and rhythm with the professional vibrant touch of color and feeling that brings beauty to their music.

Those underclass women who express a desire and an ability to sing have the opportunity to express themselves in song as members of the Freshman Women's Glee Club which has been under the direction of Miss Mary Louise McMahon for twenty-two years. Here, among the blending of voices, these women also have the opportunity to become better acquainted—thus building foundations for some lasting friendships. Presentation of programs in public schools, civic organizations, and the Spring Concert, as well as their attractive carnation booth at State Fair, are on the club's schedule for the year. Members of the Freshman Women's Glee Club receive valuable training in group singing and harmony. Many of the members of our other musical organizations at college began singing in this group. Each year people replace graduates in the other choral clubs. We salute the Freshman Women's Glee Club on their advances in musical success. The constant repetition of this success has made Miss McMahon proud of her growing group of first sopranos, second sopranos, and altos. The college is increasingly proud and appreciative, also.

An outstanding group on State's campus is the Men's Glee Club, directed by Mr. Silas Boyd. With the singular aim of entertainment, the Club makes appearances in school in and around Buffalo. This year the Glee Club has scheduled visits to Bennett High School on March 21st, followed by an appearance at East High School. The participation in the annual Spring Concert given by Men's Glee Club, tops off a series of formal concerts in Buffalo. The Club assisted in a concert with Mr. Webster at the organ and Miss Dale and Mr. Tallmadge accompanying pianists. Under the able leadership of Mr. Boyd, Men's Glee Club adds much to the social activities of State's campus. During World War II the great majority of the men were absent from this inspiring singing group. They were otherwise occupied ringing a bell—the one for Freedom. After that war, the Men's Glee Club has welcomed back many veterans to its three and four part harmony. In less than five years the "Greetings" have come again and the club decreases in number. The members will sing no matter where they are, but we want to keep them on campus in the Men's Glee Club.

Athletic Department

Buffalo State's four horsemen, the coaching staff comprised of Hube Coyer, Joe Adessa, Mike Sojka, and Don Munson, have contributed greatly towards State's athletic endeavors.

With the opening of school in early September, Coaches Adessa and Munson have their work cut out for them. Mr. Adessa, who received his training at Penn. State and Cortland, had his soccer charges going through their paces before the leaves even showed the slightest trace of turning color. His squad went on to compile an overall seasons record of wins and losses. Coach Adessa produced an All-American in Eddy Abrams, who captained the booters, and is looking forward to an even better season next year—bar the draft. Mr. Munson has just completed his fifth year as coach of Buffalo State's harriers and has fielded a winning team in each of these five years. Beside the fact that his X-country squad is nationally known as District Champ, he also handles the reins of S.T.C.'s track teams. Coach Munson himself starred at State in cross-country, winning the National Junior A.A.U. title in his junior year.

When winter's icy blasts force the athletes indoors, Coaches Coyer and Sojka take over. A product of Springfield College, Mr. Coyer, besides acting in the capacity of Athletic Director, mentors the varsity basketball squad. He is assisted by Coach Adessa who handles the junior varsity team. Mr. Coyer's basketballers reflected their able schooling by compiling a winning record even after getting off to a poor start and being hampered by injuries. Coach Sojka, who shone at Texas U. in his day, put swimming on the map at State. His ability is shown in the fact that he has molded several top individual performers and copped two Niagara District Championships.

The soccer team traveled to Rochester, New York, for their opener against the University of Rochester. The Buffalo booters suffered from opening game jitters in the first quarter, and as a result, the Flower City men penetrated Buffalo territory to tally twice. State tightened their defense and led by Captain Eddie Abrams, John Bycina and Don Cruickshank made several drives on the U. of R. net. Final score: Rochester 2, Buffalo 1.

State returned home to play host to an invading Brockport squad, Wednesday October 11, on a field that closely resembled rice flats. The booters from Brockport proved better mudders than Coach Adessa's charges, spoiling the Orange and Black's first home contest, 5-4. Ed Hunt, Buffalo goalie, suffered a broken hand and was lost until the second half of the final game of the season many weeks later. Don Fischer replaced Hunt in the Orange and Black nets.

Joe Zappala, Jim Strickland and Abrams tallied for State in their first win of the season over the visiting Ontario Aggies. Fischer blanked the Canadians with the final score 3-0. This game was also played under aquatic conditions.

The Buffalo soccer men traveled to Toronto, Ontario, where they absorbed a heart-breaking 1-0 loss at the feet of the U. of T. booters. Toronto's lone goal came on a freak goal which spun crazily past Buffalo's Fischer.

On their home field, Saturday, October 21, Buffalo State hit the win column again as they put down Western Ontario by a 3-1 count. Captain Abrams showed the stuff of which soccer players are made as he led the Canadians a merry chase over the field and scored all three of the State goals. The Canadian club's goal came in the closing minutes of the final quarter to spoil Fischer's shutout. Jack Dumbleton injured his ankle and was carried from the field.

The Orange and Black soccer team unleashed hidden power against Wheaton, downing the mid-western champions by a 6-0 count. Bill Boudreau, John Sciortino, Jack Brueckman, Paul Ryan, Dutch Adams, Frank Spinner, and Dick Bieber all starred in the impressive victory. The game marked Fischer's second

"perfect game."

The booters of Buffalo journeyed to Geneseo for the final game of the 1950 campaign, Wednesday, November 8. The Orange and Black squad spotted the "Librarians" two points and trailed 2-1 at half-time. Strickland tied it up early in the third quarter and Abrams broke the deadlock when he soloed in on the Geneseo goalie and scored on one of the timeliest goals of the season. History repeated itself in the closing seconds when Sciortino swished the nets to end the scoring at 4-2. Sciortino had also scored the final goal of the 1949 season.

The team elected Bruce Carter captain for the 1951 season with the outlooks for the coming season bright with many players scheduled to return.

The Orange and Black soccer team chalked up a 5-3 record for the 1950 season. Coach Joe Adessa's charges lost three of their four games but, led by Captain Eddie Abrams, came back to win their last four encounters.

Buffalo State's inconsistent harrier squad compiled a mediocre five and three record in college competition for the 1950 season. Coach Don Munson's boys never hit on all cylinders while the chips were down until the Niagara District Championships, when they came through to retain their team title.

Captain John Hill and Jack Foster, only senior members on the squad, completed their fourth year of fine service to BSTC's harrier circle. Hill holds the Delaware Park course while Foster, captain during the 1949 season, was State's most consistent performer.

Other bright spots include Pat Foley (captain-elect for 1951) and John Covert, the North Tarrytown "terrors," who accounted for two dual meet records; Tom Wheatley and Ted Weatherbee, freshman standouts; Lyle Cameron, chief harrier by reputation; and sophomores Joe Bessel, Fran Thompson, and Art Ahr.

State ran up against, and behind, its old nemesis, Syracuse University, while defending their International Thirty-mile Relay trophy at Toronto and were dispossessed of the huge cup by the Orange runners.

The State hustlers lost their first opening meet in four years, October 7, as they tasted defeat at the hands of Wayne University, 26-30. Coach Munson dispatched his "junior varsity" team to Fredonia State where they ran the Musicians into the ground, 17-54.

The following Wednesday, October 11, State handed Brockport an 18-37 defeat as Pat Foley shattered the Green and Gold's course record, romping home in 22:08. Jack Foster, John Covert, John Hill, and Ted Weatherbee completed the scoring.

Just a week later with two meets due in rapid succession, Coach Don Munson experimented with the two-platoon system. Splitting the squad down the middle, he sent half journeying to Fredonia State. There, Johnny Covert, set the five-mile course record of 26:51; Joe Bessel, Bob McShane, Art Ahr, and Tom Ford compiled a 15-46 shut-out victory.

Saturday, October 21, the other half of Coach Munson's two-platoon system went to work, putting down the Ontario Aggies, 17-38, over State's home course. Pat Foley romped home the winner.

The next Saturday, the Orange and Black played host to the Rev. Gil Dodd's Wheaton runners who lived up to advance billing by defeating the State team, 23-33. Outstanding in State's losing cause were Jack Foster and Joe Bessel who broke up the Wheaton team's first five, placing second and fourth, respectively.

Running for the second day in a row, the harriers captured second place in the St. Francis Xavier three-and-a-half mile race. Lyle "Chief" Cameron regained his oldtime form and placed fourth.

Wednesday, November 1, State met and lost to its old rival the University of Toronto. The meet, a triangular affair, saw Toronto post a low of 25 as compared to State's 30 and Niagara U's 78.

Jack Foster chalked up his first inter-collegiate triumph as he led eleven State harriers across the line for a one-sided 15-50 win against McMaster University.

Lyle Cameron and Captain John Hill led an inspired band of runners to the defense of their Niagara District A.A.U. title. Cameron paced the runners while Hill turned in his top performance of the season by placing fourth. John Covert, seventh; Foster, eighth; and Tom Wheatley, tenth, rounded out the championship team.

Ready for the gun

On the way to victory

The Buffalo State swimming team wound up the 1950-1951 campaign with a 3-4 record. In the fourth annual B.A.C. swim meet, State finished fourth behind Niagara, U.B. and newcomer Brockport State.

The armed forces called several of the team's foremost swimmers, with Captain Bob Weiss, Dick Lall-mang, Greg Karpenec, Charlie Dorff, Ken Dawson and Joe Terrona answering the call to duty. This weakened the squad considerably. However, with the steady improvement of several newcomers, State gave the opponents a battle all the way.

Niagara's Purple Eagles provided the formidable opposition as they romped to a 50-25 victory in the Niagara tank. Bob Bedell breezed to victory in the fancy dive. Niagara displayed potential B.A.C. material in the form of Phil Ware who sneaked off with the 220 and 440 freestyle.

Swimming

In the second of two consecutive swimming meets away, State made its record 1-1 by sinking the University of Western Ontario by the score of 40-35. This was the first meet held in the new natatorium and State certainly spoiled the debut. It was a court-pool invasion and the basketballers did not fare as well. Bedell made it two in a row in the dive and Dick Keeney splashed home first in the 440 freestyle. The medley team composed of Schluntz, Griffin and Yacos romped home first to give State a lead which was never relinquished.

In the first home meet of the season, the Orange and Black finmen submerged invading Hamilton College by the score of 56-19. State won all the first places except the 100-yard free-style. Bob Bedell won his third straight in the dive. "Ironman" Dick Keeney splashed home in the 220 and 440 yard free-style as well as anchoring the winning relay teams to walk off with the laurels.

State made its record 3-1, drubbing the University of Toronto, 40-35. Bud Gibson, Canadian national free-styler, won the 220 and 440 free-style, with Keeney trailing each time.

Coach Sojka's crew took to the road again as they traveled to Brockport. Brockport proved too powerful and State absorbed its second defeat, 41-34. In the diving event, Brockport's Art Hillis won a disputed decision over Bob Bedell to snap his victories at four. Brockport's Jim Skehan breezed to a spectacular win in the breast-stroke, splashing the distance in 2:30. Keeney, again won the 220 and 440 freestyle as well as anchoring the winning relay.

Rochester's Jim Pitts staved off a terrific effort by Gil McCue to pace the winning relay to victory. As anchor-man, Gil had an almost insurmountable lead to overcome. However, Pitts was their "ace in the hole" and he came through, to give Rochester the victory, 39-36. Keeney nosed out Pitts in the quarter-mile and the State medley of Schluntz,

Ready for the gun.

The men who set the records.
Look out below!

Griffin and Yacos coasted to victory in the opening event. Bill Schluntz won the 200-yard backstroke and Tom Griffin butterflied to a first in the 200 breaststroke to highlight the meet.

Niagara's finmen made it two straight over State, splashing to a 48-27 conquest at the Buffalo pool. Al McCarthy was State's lone winner, racing the 50-yard free-style in jig time with State's Gil McCue, second. Niagara's Phil Ware proved to be too much for State's Dick Keeney as he sailed to two record-shattering performances in the 220 and 440-yard free-style.

In the B.A.C. meet, State finished fourth in the annual intercollegiate swim festival. Niagara amassed 43 points to take the title for the second year. This marked the first time State did not win a first place. However, Bill Schluntz gave Niagara's George Kouch a battle in the 200-backstroke, only to lose out by inches. Niagara set five meet records in winning. Kouch, Auman and Hanrahan combined to win the opening medley. Phil Ware, the Purple Eagle's sensational freshman, won the 220 and the 440-yard freestyle events in record time. U.B. snared the 50 yard free-style and the fancy dive as well as the 100 yard free-style. Brockport's Skehan set a new record in the 200-breaststroke. Niagara continued to cast its purple hue over the meet by splashing home first in the final relay to gain the victory.

Providing Uncle Sam does not interfere, Coach Sojka will lose only two men, Al McCarthy and Bob Bedell. With Keeney, Schluntz, McCue, Yacos, Kissell, Massimilla and Griffin returning, State will be ready when the water-curtain goes up next season.

The Buffalo State basketball team crippled by injuries throughout the season, turned in a 10-8 record for the 1950-51 season. The Statesmen won six of their last seven games.

The cagers opened at the Armory against Toronto and the Canadian club ungraciously dumped the Orange and Black squad by a 54-50 score. Toronto came from behind in the final minute to net two field goals and a charity toss to gain the win. Bob Lang was high man for the night with 19 points.

Buffalo State ran rough-shod over the hapless Geneseo team, and, paced by newcomer Joe Zappala who netted 14, took the measure of the "librarians," 50-38.

The final quarter proved State's undoing in their game against McMaster on the Canadian's court. The Statesmen led 40-35 going into the nightmarish final frame when the Hamiltonians opened up for 26 points while the Orange's attack fizzled. The final score was 61-51 as Joe Zappala again paced the Teachers with 12 counters.

The basketballers returned home two days later, Friday, December 8, to play host to an Albion quintet from Ohio. Playing an inspired brand of ball, the Buffalo State quintet turned back the invaders, 69-61. Wally Handy suffered a knee injury which was to prove serious enough to sideline him for the remainder of the season. Bucky Lang paced his team-mates with 19 points.

Oberlin extended their winning string to 11 straight on the Ohioans' home court at the expense of the Buffalo fivesome, who went down to defeat 66-54. Milt Garfield was high man for State with 19 counters.

The cagers journeyed to London, Ontario, another foreign court, after vacation. There they lost a 64-63 heartbreaker to the University of Western Ontario. Milt Garfield was the individual hero of the night as he dropped in 30 markers. During the week's practice preceeding the game, it was found that John Sciole, who had suffered a pre-season knee injury, would be lost to the squad for the entire season.

The Statesmen put on a fine show for a huge homecoming crowd January 12, as they downed Hamilton College by a 62-55 margin. The score was knotted six times and the lead changed hands eight times until the final quarter when State spurted ahead for the victory. Ralph Rothenberg celebrated his 19th birthday by netting 12 points, coming through in the clinch with several fine plays. Milt Garfield paced the cagers with 21 points. Captain Andy Grabowski was sidelined in the first of seven games that he was to miss due to a kidney ailment.

Garfield continued his scoring spree in State's 78-60 win over McMaster University. The Jamestown sophomore netted 26 points as the Orange avenged an earlier loss to McMaster on the Canadian's court. This win evened the season's record to four wins and four losses.

Bob Lang, with 27 points, led the Statesmen to a 68-63 victory over an invading Ashland team. State led at the half, 31-28.

Brockport edged the Statesmen between semesters, January 24, on the Brockport court. The final tally read 65-46 as Lang and Al Wukovits split 24.

Wheaton College, from Illinois, brought a fast-stepping and fast-breaking quintet to the 174th Armory to run the State team into the floor and walk off with an 87-55 win. Lang and Garfield meshed 18 and 16 points, respectively.

The game of the year was played at Toronto, Ontario, before about 25 State fans (including the team, coach, Hungry Five plus two, and a reporter). The Statesmen won in double overtime, 86-84, as Garfield again paced the team with 29 counters. Wukovits, Ed Funcheon, and Ted Sturgis were the other high scorers for Buffalo as every State player broke into the scoring column with "Clutch Buckets."

The hoopsters won over Edinboro on the Pennsylvanians' court, 62-55, as Captain Andy Grabowski returned to the Buffalo line-up after a two month absence. Lang and Garfield were tops in the scoring columns as they dumped in 18 and 16 points, respectively.

The Buffalo State cagers waltzed to an easy 68-52 win over an invading squad from Oswego State. Coach Hube Coyer cleared the bench in the final stanza as all 14 members of the Orange and Black squad got into the game. Al Wukovits was high with 19 points.

Buffalo trailed Allegheny at intermission, 23-29, but caught fire in the second half as Milt Garfield provided the spark needed. The Jamestown forward dumped 22 points in as many minutes while Bucky Lang dropped 19 to pace the cagers to a 60-46 victory in one of the team's better second halves of the season. Ed Hunt was outstanding on the boards to aid the State cause.

Buffalo State awakened in the final quarter against Fredonia to score 28 points and wrap up the contest 60-47. Bob Lang gave a preview of things to come as he paced the Statesmen with 25 markers. This was the fifth straight win for Coach Coyer's charges.

Friday, February 23, could well be called "Bob Lang Night" for the popular senior hook-shot artist played the greatest game of his collegiate career as State edged Thiel 83-78 in the final home game of the season. Lang scored 35 points to break the former Armory mark of 28 points and he also broke the high single game total of any State player; the former mark of 34 being set five years ago by State's Lou Vastola in Memorial Auditorium. Bucky also was presented the Psi Phi award, between halves, signifying the outstanding basketball player of the season.

Was it good?

Alfred ruined State's six game winning streak, dumping the Statesmen on the Saxon's court, 66-55. The Teachers trailed throughout the game and the halftime score was 31-25. Bucky Lang was again high man with 19 points.

Milt Garfield had a season average of 17.05 while Bob Lang was a point behind with 16.05. Al Wukovits was third with a 10.6 average. The team's offensive average was 61.6 while the opposition's scores figured out to a 61.3 average.

The team elected Ed Hunt and Joe Dopp co-captains of next season's team which has prospects for a good season.

Take it away!

Junior Varsity Basketball

On February 23, State's Junior Varsity basketball team closed its season with its tenth victory, a 66-48 win, over the Company "N", New York Guard team. This triumph closed the door on one of the finest seasons a Junior Varsity team has experienced in the long history of basketball on the campus.

Along the trail, which was marred by only two losses, Coach Adessa's team administered losses to some fine competition including two wins over rival Buffalo State Tech's team. In compiling their 10-2 record they also managed a sterling defense that limited their adversaries to a mere 44 points per game. In their second outing against Ontario Aggie's varsity it wasn't until the final seconds that that team was able to score their twentieth point. Along with this brickwall defense the team had a steam-rolling offense that mixed a fast break with control basketball. Led by its top five scorers Bycina, Swan, Abrams, Boudreau and Cruickshank the Junior Varsity's had a balanced team with adequate bench strength to keep their opponents off balance. Height was no limiting factor as State had Boller, Swan, Schwob, Jarrett, and later Gerbracht and Wyatt to control the backboards.

Good foul shooting was also an asset in winning as the whole team shot a respectable 54% from the fifteen foot line. Honek and Boudreau were tops in this department along with Cruickshank, Abrams, Swan, and Bycina who all shot 63% or better.

The 1950 edition of Buffalo State's outdoor track squad compiled a won 2, lost 3 record for the season. The Orange and Black started off by downing St. Bonaventure 66-56 at Kenmore. Coach Don Munson's forces then went into a slump, losing their next two meets, an 89-42 verdict to the University of Buffalo. The Statesmen recovered from their tailspin long enough to subdue Niagara University 69½-52½ before dropping their final dual encounter to Brockport State 93½-37½.

Outstanding throughout the season were: Jim Ballard in the 100-yard dash, Bob Cowan and Captain Lenny Zwick in the quarter mile run, Lyle Cameron and Gordon Smith in the two-mile run, Art Mamott, Art Gill and Lefty Allen in the high jump, Art Mamott in the broad jump, Mal Schuck in the hurdles and discus, and Paul Ryan in the pole vault. Other contributing performers included Jack Foster, John Covert, and Art Ahr, distances; Will Morse, sprints; Milt Conomos, Willy Schumm, and Jim Wells, field events.

A few of the top individual performances were; Jim Ballard's 10:2 hundred, Mal Schuck's 26.4 stint over the 220-yard hurdles, Pat Foley's torrid 2:03.5 half mile, Al Heinen's 4:42.2 mile run effort—all of which were registered against St. Bona's and Art Gill's and Art Mamott's tie for first place in the high jump against Niagara U. when they both cleared 6 feet.

Women's Athletic Council has been organized at State for about fifteen years. The purpose of its creation was to organize a body of women to promote competitive sports at the college. The council itself is made up of three officers. The president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer together with two representatives from each class. To carry on all their activities the council is given an allotment from the athletic fee. During the year it sponsors what is known as play days. Five colleges: Buffalo, Brockport, Fredonia, Geneseo and Oswego each take their turns at being hostess. Each college sends its own representatives to the meeting. A particular sport is chosen as the highlight of the day and competition goes on not only in this sport, but also in many others. The social aspect is not neglected either. A dinner is given by the hostess college who sets a theme for the entire play day. A large part of the council's activities have to do with after-school sports such as volleyball, basketball, badminton, softball, swimming, archery and bowling. The sports are given on a seasonal basis with volleyball, archery, swimming and bowling being the first to take over. Basketball and the same indoor sports occupy the winter scene, with softball and badminton completing the season. The co-recreational nights are also sponsored by W.A.C. In May a banquet is held in honor of all those who have won a letter. To acquaint new students with the activities of W.A.C. the council publishes its own handbook each year.

Looks easy, doesn't it?

Relax!

Two for the price of one

"Ladies, please! Jump!" This is a familiar cry to everyone who has ever participated in after-school sports, and it may be attributed to Miss Spaulding, the director of that program.

In early fall, women's sports activities begin. Volleyball was the first sport to invade the gym this year. This was due primarily to the condition of the soccer field which caused the omission of girl's soccer from the schedule; thus volleyball had a longer stay with us this year. Sixteen teams with approximately ten girls each enjoyed the fun. The Sullys captained by Jean Sullivan won the championship in the play-off games.

Every Monday and Wednesday at Voelker's one can see Miss Roach teaching the girls the fundamentals of that maplewood game, bowling. The first few weeks are spent in learning the correct stance and how to deliver the ball, but after that the real games begin to roll.

No one need be self-conscious about her scores, because everyone is put into a group which is bowling about the same average as her own. The classes are divided into three groups; beginners, intermediates, and advanced. The beginners have an average of 100 or below and the intermediates go as high as 140. Anything over this average can be considered advanced.

Basketball has the longest stay of any sport, it begins in November and continues until March. The season is divided by the close of the semester, and separate champions are crowned for each half.

The first few weeks are taken up by the practicing of formations and the selection of captains. Each group chooses a name for its own team; for instance, the Phal Guise, Abba Dabba's, Ch-Koos and the B-B-B-B-Bombers are a few of the moderately sane ones. The winners in each league vie for the championship in a play-off game sponsored by W.A.C.

Archery, both beginning and advanced, is another after-school sport offered to the girls on campus. Anyone who has never taken archery is in for a thrill the first time she shoots an arrow. Miss Spaulding, who coaches the archery classes, showed her beginners' class a movie about the development and use of the bow and arrow through the ages and the correct technique and form to use in order to hit that bull's-eye.

Archery requires a far greater amount of equipment than one would realize. Besides the traditional bow and arrow, names like nock, cock feather, quiver, and shaft are archery terms with which the girls soon become familiar. One also might be surprised to know that there is even a special glove and wrist guard for archery. The first thing one learns is the name of the equipment used. Next, the bow is selected. It can not be too heavy, but it should be the same height as the user. Learning to string the bow is the next step. After this has been mastered one is ready to try for that bull's-eye. There are eight successive steps to aiming and releasing the arrow. Miss Spaulding always reminds the girls not to move their feet after they have begun to shoot. They may have difficulty drawing the bow string back or hitting the target, but after a few practices even the

Here I come!

C'mon in; the water's fine.

SHOOT !!

Up and over

wariest beginner is able to accomplish this feat.

Yes, indeed, archery is a universal sport that has grown more popular every year, until today it provides for the participants many hours of fun and relaxation.

The Red Cross life saving course is offered to the girls on campus under the capable direction of Miss Bosworth, girls' swimming instructor.

Is the person really drowning or is he just tired? What means can I use to help? Have I the ability to assist the person in trouble? These are just a few of the questions a potential lifesaver asks herself when she sees someone in trouble in the water.

You may be surprised to know one doesn't have to be a superior swimmer to aid someone who is in trouble. In addition to the swimming rescue technique, elementary forms of rescue are also taught. Learning to throw the ringbuoy and to remove their outer clothing when in the water, were some of the lessons the girls really enjoyed. So if you know how to swim (and you don't have to be an expert) take the course. Besides being a lot of fun and relaxation it is a very useful skill; for one never knows when it will enable her to save someone's life.

The old saying, "Look at the birdie" can be applied to more than photography, for badminton is based on this little saying. Every spring the gym is decorated with nets and girls clad in shorts running after a silly little feathered object. It may look silly, but it's really a great deal of fun.

With badminton the women's sports season at State closes.

Every Monday a roar is heard emanating from the rumpus room under North Hall. It really isn't an explosion; it is only the cheerleaders demonstrating their talents. These practice periods are an important part of the girls' busy schedule. The time they devote to rehearsal is not lost; the vitality of State's athletic contests is due, to a large extent, to the ability of this group to incite spirit into the weary brains of the spectators. To bring about this transformation, our cheerleaders combine arms, legs, feet, and lungs into movements that are an inspiration to both the team and the audience. The girls erupt spontaneously with fired cheers, encouraging our teams to excellence. Wholehearted cooperation in rhythmic formation makes the appearance of the cheerleaders in orange and black eye-catching and inspiring. How could our teams do anything but come out on top with such vocal support from our lusty court-side bench rooters?

During its four years on the State campus, the Class of 1951 has both contributed to and absorbed from college life many worthwhile benefits. The seniors have played and worked the duration of the teacher-training program with spirited zest, ingenious enterprise, and successful scholarship. Now, approaching alumni status, we look in retrospect at our Frosh Hazing excitement, matriculation exams, and the single Interclass Sing we did not win. As sophomores we welcomed the extra-curricular friendships and activities of sororities and fraternities. That year we only tied for Holly-Hanging honors, but as Juniors we hung the Christmas wreath alone. Engrossed in the professional skills and attitudes of practice teachers, we investigated most thoroughly the grammar school curricula in which we gained valuable experience. On campus we have watched the expanding facilities of the Student Union, Dormitory, and the Edward H. Butler Library. With hope and confidence, we plan for the future years. Many happy highlights brighten the cherished memories of our "Finest Hour."

A long-remembered day.

By now well acquainted with the college routine of traditions, quizzes, and convocations the members of the junior class prepare themselves to become seniors. Knowing that it will take hard work and many talents to live up to the past record of the present senior class, efforts are put forth by all of the juniors to lead the college in their attainment of leadership, fellowship and scholarship. As junior counsellors they provided the bewildered freshmen with capable guidance through a confusing year. A lovely junior, chosen by popular vote, reigned as queen of the Junior Prom. Excitement was keen at Holly Hanging and Inter-Class Sing. Inter-class competition spurs not only artistic ability to come to the fore, but also scholastic achievement to advance. Juniors are continually being apprenticed by seniors to take over responsible positions vacated by their graduation. Now the juniors have completed six semesters on the State campus—and it was a successful expenditure of time and talent.

Now we walked through familiar corridors and across the campus with a greater sense of belonging. We were sophomores! Through the fun-filled "hazing," followed by Frosh Hop, we let the freshmen know who we were. The tug-o'-war replaced the annual push-ball contest. The traditions of State meant more to us this year, and the deeper understanding of our heritage kindled a new enthusiasm at Inter-class sing in November, and during Holly Hanging at Christmas time. In February we sponsored the Snow Party at Fredonia Lodge, and in April, there was the Sophomore Prom. On Moving-Up Day it did not seem possible that two years had gone by. Half of our college years were over and the memories of them made us look eagerly ahead to two more wonderful years at State. Gradually we began enjoying the facilities of the beautiful new College Union. Watching the completion of the Edward H. Butler library became a popular sport of undergraduates. We know that our future will be as happy as our past and as valuable to our development and success.

Sophomore Class

Hard work, but the triumph is sweet.

Let it snow.

Only on Moving-Up Day when the freshmen become sophomores do they realize the wealth of activities and experiences left behind in their first year on campus—matriculation tests, physical examinations, and the excitement of initiation during Frosh Week. They were sure they knew how to spell Scajaquada! Inspired by the impressive Inter-Class Sing competition they resolve to win next year. To have your class year numerals in black on that orange background is quite an honor and a thrill. Spirited Holly Hanging festivities put homework in the background as decorating the hall in front of the library becomes a prime concern. "We'll hang the wreath next year." Yes, as the months progress the freshmen become more accustomed to student affairs and requirements. Looking forward to the next year as sophomores they begin the summer recess after their first two semesters on the expanding college campus. They have chosen the field of work that attracted them—the teaching profession. Now a decision to specialize in primary work, industrial arts, home economics or teaching of the handicapped. These particular fields add extra incentive during the coming college years. Increased enrollment at State is a barometer to the recognition that a college education is almost a necessity in the year 1951. The freshmen have started on their way to the diploma!

Psi Phi Fraternity, in keeping with the current trend of college spirit inaugurates the Year's sports activities with its annual "Jinx Burning" consisting of a mammoth bonfire and pep rally, this traditional affair is to frighten away the bad luck which may lurk wherever our teams play. An integral part of campus life, this grand spectacle emphasizes the morale for which State is so well known.

Cheers and fire ward off defeat.

Frosh Week

The sophomores have their annual opportunity to haze the already confused freshmen during Frosh Week. Newcomers to our campus are initiated with the result that new friendships are formed, especially among the juniors, who act as counselors all year long. This exciting tradition is anxiously looked forward to by the entire student body and faculty as an informal means of acquainting freshmen with the organizations and the traditions on campus.

State Fair

Not a county fair, but a STATE FAIR! With all the super-stupendous side shows and all the lively crushing crowds of popcorn munchers and root beer sippers a college gymnasium can hold within its walls, State Fair, the proceeds of which are for the World Student Service Fund, is the annual gift of the Student Christian Association to college life. Each student organization is given the opportunity to erect the booth of their choice.

Good grades pay off.

Dean's Tea

Each semester Kappa Delta Pi, an Honor Society in Education, invites those students of high scholastic standing to tea. At this social function, Dean Horn is given the opportunity of meeting many outstanding students and the students are given the opportunity of conducting themselves in a formal social situation. In this manner, a valuable service is rendered not only to the faculty, but to the students as well.

White Rose Dance

The Rose of Sigma Tau

Initiating the winter season's social activities of State's couples is the White Rose Dance presented annually by Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity. The Queen of the White Rose Dance and her attendants are elected by student vote from representatives of each sorority on campus. A lovely gracious tradition.

"Memories . . . Memories

A toast to State, to all the days,
All the laughter, all the tears,
You have made our friendships great,
We'll triumph through the years.
With hope anew we'll face the storm
Beyond which stands our lofty tower
And that will be our finest hour."

"In years to come we'll look to thee
Yearning for your guiding light,
You'll not fail us Alma Mater
Keep us through the night.
When darkness comes and all hope dies
You will give us strength and power,
And that will be our finest hour."

Holly Hanging

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors—all compete for the honor of hanging the Christmas wreath on the entrance door to the Main Building. The foyer is transformed into the Nativity scene, designed by the seniors; the social center is the bedroom of sleepy children awaiting the coming of Santa Claus, decorated by the sophomores; the student center becomes a long chapel with organ and altar, made by the juniors; the hall before the library is now a rural road complete with horse and buggy, arranged by the freshmen. Carolers' songs echoing from room to room and floor to floor set a stage on which every student plays an active part while expectantly awaiting the outcome of this colorful, reverent, yet joyful tradition commemorating the beginning of the holiday season.

Christmas Tree Hour

Christmas—rich in deep spiritual feeling, jubilant in carols, hopeful with the promise of world brotherhood and peace. And—a holiday! No program could better satisfy these mixed thoughts and emotions than a Christmas Tree Hour, a truly cherished tradition.

"Dear Santa—"

She reigns in beauty.

A fantasy of floats! A lovely queen to reign over the colorful and gay activities of the day! Moving-Up Day becomes our last tradition of the year in which every organization actively participates. Symbolic of the progress each class has made, moving up to the next rank is proof of accomplishment by students. Another year has passed—we have come nearer to our goal, guided by helpful faculty, who are always willing to cooperate with us for our advancement. Cheerfully we remember this scene of gaiety as one of the happiest of the year.

Seal of the University

On every campus there is an orientation program during which faculty and older students introduce freshmen to the activities and the life of the college. There are student newspapers and yearbooks as well as dramatic societies, musical organizations and athletic schedules. It is a basic principle of operation on all State University campuses that a student requires and deserves a total campus life which includes academic instructions of high quality and at the same time, offers a well-balanced social and physical environment. There are in the State University of New York eleven colleges engaged in teacher education located at Albany, Brockport, Buffalo, Cortland, Fredonia, Geneseo, New Paltz, Oneonta, Oswego, Plattsburg, and Potsdam; two colleges offering an education in medicine at the Long Island College of Medicine, and Syracuse; one college created to give technical and practical training for the manufacture of ceramic products at Alfred; one college is dedicated to the training of qualified students for careers in the maritime industry at Fort Schuyler; one college designed to instruct students in agriculture at Cornell University; one college established for training in homemaking at Cornell University; one college that is a unique institution to serve labor and management and the public, the School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University; one college giving opportunity to students interest in medicine in its relation to the treatment of animals at Cornell University; one college prepares men for professional work in all phases of forestry at Syracuse; six colleges in the agricultural business at Alfred, Canton, Cobleskill, Delhi, Farmingdale, and Morrisville; five colleges of Applied Arts and Sciences located at Binghamton, Brooklyn, Buffalo, Utica, and White Plains; two G.I. colleges are in operation—Champlain College and Middleton Collegiate Center.

Cornerstone Laying and Dormitory Dedication

Filling the Copper Box

It's a great day for us all.

The moment has arrived.

Sealed against Time, today we set away
The Past within the corner's rugged stone,
Whereon our dream, which through slow months has grown,
Shall take its splendid shape in steel and clay.

Set firm that stone in place. Oh on it may the building strongly rest. Set firm that stone—
Symbolic corner-rock of Wisdom's throne—
Preserving, for tomorrow, Yesterday

On this, the only true foundation laid,
In noble pride the building shall arise,
Eternal sign of highborn enterprise
With doors wide-flung. And Wisdom, sober maid,
Shall lodging find, where with a single eye
Both Past and Present watch the eastern sky.

Autographs

Dear Lorene -
Well, another year gone by, and one more to go. It's really been hectic this semester and we always manage to get in some laughs.
It's been a great thing
knowing you and be good this summer. Let's be good and get your stuff done!
Joan

Buddy Lorene,
well! if it isn't the dear's list kid. We should check you out of the goof off club for this. But you're a good kid so will make you a passive member.
Seriously, kid, it's been real - just you around see make off parties at school - make parties at the B.F. & Treibauer etc.
Stay loose now,
Lorene
Carol
